Lori's All Right!

Mrs. Pat Vining of Kalamazoo comforts her two-year-old daughter, Lori, who was thrown some 30 feet from rear of family station wagon (right) in I-94 accident last night near Watervliet. Station wagon was struck from behind by another auto and rear window popped out. Child, sleeping on rear deck, also flew out and landed in median about 30 feet from point of impact. She was taken to St. Joseph Memorial hospital, where it was determined she suffered only bruises. She was released this morning after overnight observation. Station wagon was driven by child's father, Pat Vining. Berrien sheriff's officers reported other car was driven by Albert R. Romeo, 47, Route 2, Watervliet, who was arrested on charge of driving under influence of intoxicants. (Photos by Cliff Stevens).

Price Hike Elates, Angers Gasoline Dealers

Some Stations Call Off Shutdown

By BARTON REPERT
Associated Press Writer

Reactions of service station operators ranged from elation to anger as the federal Cost of Living Council raised retail ceiling prices for gasoline.

Dealers in western New York called off a protest shutdown for this weekend after the council's announcement Friday. Organizers agreed to end a shutdown in the St. Louis area Monday morning, 36 hours earlier than originally planned.

But a service station association in Houston said hundreds of dealers there would go ahead with a three-day closing Monday.

The Cost of Living Council said it was approving immediate retail price increases that would enable most gasoline dealers to raise their prices by 1 to 2.5 cents a gallon.

However, many dealers said the price hikes would afford them only temporary relief.

Some were angry that the council did not completely lift Phase 4 controls and thus allow them to pass on to customers any subsequent wholesale gasoline price increases.

The price of gasoline in Michigan is expected to be increased by 2.5 to 3 cents a gallon this weekend due to the new pricing formula granted to retailers by the Cost of Living Council, according to the executive director of the Michigan Service Station

Dealers Association.

"The new price formula is effective immediately, and dealers in Michigan will raise their prices as soon as they become aware of it," said Charles Shipley.

"We've beaten those bastards (Cost of Living Council) and they know it," said Shipley.

"It (the new formula) means they (Michigan independent dealers) can pass on any price increase up to this point they have been forced to absorb," he explained.

"This does relieve the highly discriminatory date imposed up to this time. It goes a long way to meeting most of our demands," he continued.

"But it will not be a satisfactory order until we get the automatic right to pass through future increases that are allowed the major oil companies. We are sure that our efforts that brought us this far (See back page, sec. 1, col. 5)

NEITHER WASPS NOR ANTS: A Michigan State university entomologist says bugs that invaded St. Joseph early this week are neither wasps nor flying ants, but are members of wasp-like Ichneumonidae family. He has eliminated 11,000 species and has 4,000 to go before positive identification can be made. (Staff photo)

11,000 Down, 4,000 To Go

MSU Expert Narrows Field In SJ Insect Hunt

The task of identifying the horde of insects that invaded St. Joseph and surrounding area early this week has sent a Michigan State university entomologist deep into dusty files.

Prof. Roland Fischer, a specialist in insect identification, said Friday the invading pests here are members of the wasp-like Ichneumonidae (pronounced Ick-nue-mon-id-i) family. There are, however, some 15,000 individual species within this very numerous family.

Professor Fischer has ruled out about 11,000 species, but has some 4,000 to "key out" before he can determine the exact species.

It is not a flying ant, and not a member of the ant family. Ants belong to the Formicidae family. While the Ichneumons are wasp-like in appearance, they are not wasps, either. Fischer is the curator of the entomology museum at MSU which features collections of different types of insects.

He said since they are not true wasps, they will not sting, but the stinger-like organ on the insect's posterior is an ovipositor. It is used to lay eggs in the bodies of moth larvae and caterpillars, he said.

Fischer said he had no explanation for the sudden appearance of large numbers of the pests, and would be unable to describe their habits until the exact species was determined.

He indicated he would inform the Berrien County Extension Service office of the exact identity and background of the bug as soon as he completes the identification process. County Extension Service personnel sent specimens to Prof. Fischer when local sources were unable to come up with certain identification.

On Wednesday, the insects were identified as flying ants by Lou Awodey, a naturalist at Sarret Nature Center.

BEER DETECTED IN LUNGS

Probe Death Of Tot, 2

By RALPH LUTZ

Berrien sheriff's officers are investigating the death Friday night of a two-year-old boy, who was reported to have beer in his lungs, according to Lt. Ronald Schalton.

The victim was identified as Richard Ellis, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ellis, Sr., workers on the John Westover farm, Hipps Hollow road, Eau Claire.

Schalton said that the death was reported at 9:48 p.m., when the child was found inside the parents' car, parked at the Walter Skibbe farm, Watson road, near Park road in Pipestone township.

An autopsy was to be performed at Benton Harbor Mercy hospital, Schalton said, to determine the exact cause of death.

Schalton said witnesses gave this account: Mr. and Mrs. Ellis had gone to the Skibbe farm to visit friends in a migrant camp. An occupant, Jessie Caldwell, went outside and found that the baby was in the family car, with his head out a window. Caldwell said Mrs. Ellis earlier had gotten into the car and was asleep. Caldwell said he told the baby to put his head back inside the car, and then discovered him to be unconscious.

Schalton said Richard was pronounced dead at Berrien General hospital by Dr. Connie Landrum, a hospital staff physician, who detected beer in the lungs.

KALAMAZOO CENTER: Work is scheduled to begin immediately on the Kalamazoo Center, a $15 million multi-purpose facility in the heart of downtown Kalamazoo, Mich. In addition to a civic and convention center, the structure will contain a 300-room hotel, commercial and office areas, retail outlets, restaurants, a theater, and public meeting rooms. Scheduled to be completed by the end of 1974, the two partners in the project, the City of Kalamazoo and the Inland Steel Development Corp., are building the center adjacent to the Kalamazoo Mall, the first pedestrian shopping plaza in the nation. (AP Wirephoto)

Some Shoreline Property Owners Due Tax Refund

Some Berrien county residents who own Lake Michigan-shoreline property that was damaged in last spring's storms are eligible to file for immediate federal income tax refunds, according to Rep. Edward Hutchinson.

A dozen Michigan counties, including Berrien, were declared disaster areas last spring. The other 11 counties are all on the eastern side of Michigan.

Hutchinson said a property owner can qualify for the tax refund if he sustained damage in one of those counties during the declared disaster period and if the damage was not covered by insurance or a Small Business Administration disaster loan.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) said losses could be deducted from 1972 returns even though they have already been filed and even though the damage occurred in 1973. The IRS said that was because many people needed the money sooner than waiting and filing with a 1973 form.

The spokesman said the tax return could be achieved by filing for it either through an amendment to the 1972 return or in the 1973 returns when they are filed next year.

All local IRS offices will have the necessary forms needed to apply for the tax refunds.

The IRS considers damages to "grounds, dwellings, automobiles, boats, furniture and other property" eligible, Hutchinson stated.

SMC Fine Arts Center Cass Dinner And Auction Raise $21,000

DOWAGIAC — In a party atmosphere here last night, some 175 prominent Michiana area residents produced more than $21,000 for the $1 million fine arts center and theater proposed for Southwestern Michigan college.

The scene was the $50-a-plate formal dinner and auction in the Dowagiac armory sponsored by the SMC Foundation, which is heading the fund-raising drive for the proposed center.

The more than $21,000 collected was money spent by the auction-goers for items donated by Michiana area residents and businesses for the sale.

An unofficial tally for the more than 100 items sold shows a total of $21,835. This excludes money collected from the sale of decorative flowers in the room.

Terming the auction "very successful," SMC President Dr. Russell Owen said it is a "positive beginning" for the fund-raising effort.

"People have been very philanthropic in bidding," he said, pointing out that many items were sold above their estimated value.

Items sold ranged from several three-pound canned hams to a custom-made mink jacket.

A 15-day trip to Hawaii for two, donated by Clark Equipment company of Buchanan, brought the highest price for a single item, $1,500. Purchaser was Lewis Runkle of Edwardsburg.

Two other items broke the $1,000 mark: a mink jacket sold to Sally J. Valentine of South Bend, Ind., for $1,300; and a one-week ski vacation for two in Switzerland sold to SMC board trustee Foster Daugherty, $1,000.

Next step in the fund-raising drive for the fine arts center will be seeking funds from private and public foundations, according to Herbert Hass, SMC director of development and executive director of the SMC foundation.

Hass said the auction will serve to show foundations that the fine arts center proposal has local support.

The center has been proposed for construction at SMC's campus just south of Dowagiac. It would have a 400 to 500 seat auditorium and classrooms for fine arts instruction.

According to Hass, drive officials hope the needed funds are secured within three years.

Charles King, SMC Foundation president, was unable to attend because of illness. Edward Lowe, a foundation board member and Cass county businessman, acted as master of ceremonies in place of King. Auctioneer was John Glassman of Eau Claire.

Teachers Get $300-$710 Pay Hikes

Lakeshore Board Okays Pact

A two-year agreement providing $300 to $710 pay raises for Lakeshore school teachers this year has been adopted by the Lakeshore school board.

Supt. Frederick J. Schmit said board action came at a special meeting Thursday night following a review of the proposal.

Teachers, represented by the Lakeshore Education association, had approved the pact previously, Schmit said.

The agreement becomes part of a two-year master contract adopted a year ago and extends the pact an additional year.

Under the terms, Schmit said a starting teacher with a bachelor's degree would get $8,300 compared to $8,000 under the old salary schedule. In the second year of the extended pact, the 1974-75 school year, the teacher would get $8,700.

In six years, a teacher with a bachelor's degree will make $9,960, compared to $9,600 under the old agreement and $10,440 in the second year of the pact.

Afterward, the teacher, if he had acquired 10 additional hours of training would be able to reach $12,516 by the end of another six years. The same teacher received $12,069 under the previous agreement.

A teacher with a master's degree is to receive $9,000 this year to start and reach $14,850 with 14 years experience. Last year the figures were $8,700 to start and $14,140 in 14 years. Next year, the figures go to $9,400 to start to $15,510 in 14 years.

Schmit said cost of the package had not yet been determined but that it would permit the district to have a balanced budget. He said no average salary figure under the new terms had been developed either. Last year, the average salary for the district's 185 teachers was $10,449.

Schmit said one change in the provisions eliminated a formula for granting pay raises to persons at the top of their salary schedule. Raises for these, under the pact, would be tied to adoption of a new salary schedule for the teaching staff generally.

The boosts for teachers this year range from 3.7 to 5 per cent.

River Valley Teachers Get 6.1% 'Interim' Hike

THREE OAKS — A salary schedule providing for 6.1 per cent pay boosts for River Valley school district teachers was approved by the district school board yesterday as an interim step in current contract talks.

Acting Supt. Edward Farrell said that the action came after negotiations over a full master contract reached an impasse early Thursday following a mediation session which began Wednesday morning.

The district's 102 teachers have been working without a new master contract since school began. They have taken no formal action on the salary package.

David Nash, head of the district's education association of teachers, said the faculty would meet early next week to assess developments and determine what course to follow. He said he expected teachers would report for work as scheduled Monday.

Nash declined to speculate on the reaction of the faculty to the board action, but said he personally did not find it upsetting.

Nash said that during the mediation session the teachers had said the 6.1 per cent package was their rock bottom request. He termed the board's action as an apparent gesture to get the increases to the teachers now while talks continue.

Both Farrell and Nash said a key issue to be settled is a teacher request for a planning period for middle school teachers. If approved, the board would have to hire an additional three fulltime and one part-time teacher to keep classes on schedule.

The cost would amount to $35,000 or more according to Farrell.

Involved are 19 teachers in the middle school.

Under the schedule adopted by the board, starting teachers would remain the same as last year. Teachers with bachelor degrees would start at $8,000 and reach $12,387 with 13 years experience, compared to a top under the old schedule of $11,675. A teacher with a master's degree plus 15 credit hours would start at $8,840 and reach $14,217 in 13 years. Last year the top was $12,400.

Also to be implemented as part of the salary schedule would be major hospital and medical coverage.

Voting for adoption of the schedule were Board President William Hausmann, and members Adrian VanGinhoven, George Lozmack, Weldon Vurdon and John Schwark. Board members Jay Sexton and Doris Rice were absent.

Will Hold Open House On Oct. 23

Benton Harbor Area Schools officials have announced an open house will be held Oct. 23 at the newly-opened Louis C. Upton Memorial Technical center and the Skill center.

The Upton Tech center was returned to the Benton Harbor school system this year, after having been leased to Lake Michigan college as part of the old LMD campus.

The open house will be held in conjunction with American Education week, Oct. 21-27, with this year's theme "Visit Your Schools."

The technical center, off Britain avenue, and skill center, on Fair avenue, are both operated as the vocational education division of Benton Harbor high school.

There are currently six vocational courses offered at the skill center and nine at the tech center, with an enrollment of 418 students. Three other vocational courses are offered at the high school.

The open houses will be held from 7-9 p.m.

College Course Begins Wednesday In Newspaper

The first of the 20-part series, America and the Future of Man, will appear in this newspaper Wednesday.

These college courses by newspaper are offered for college credits by various colleges throughout the state and have been developed for three types of newspaper reads: the causal reader whose interest is caught by the information presented; the reader who wants to explore the subject further and will send for a $10 kit of supplemental materials, or the reader seeking college credit for the course.

Thirteen Michigan universities and colleges will offer three units (quarter system) or two units (semester system) of degree credit for participants who qualify in mid-term and final examinations based on their reading of the articles in this newspaper and use of the supplemental materials.

Among Michigan universities taking part in the course are Michigan State university and Western Michigan university.

Fees charged by MSU and WMU will be the normal credit hour fee for off-campus courses. No other charges will be made by the universities, but those taking the course will be expected to purchase the $10 kit which consists of an anthology of additional articles, a study guide, bibliographies, plus some learning devices.

Those interested in participating in the course should contact either Dr. A. S. Mowery, Director of MSU Center, 777 Riverview drive, Bldg. B, Benton Harbor, Mich. 49022, telephone 616-925-0692, or Stephen Nisbet, Director, WMU area office, 777 Riverview drive, Bldg. B, Benton Harbor, Mich., 49022, telephone 616-925-7059.

To obtain kit of supplemental information, send $10 with name and address to America and the Future of Man, P. O. Box F, Wayne, New Jersey 07470.

Marriage Off To Bad Start

By STEVE McQUOWN

PAW PAW — A check reportedly written to pay for a marriage license issued last month has a rural Decatur man's marriage off to a bad start. Van Buren Prosecutor William Buhl has authorized a misdemeanor warrant charging David Slavings, 18, route 3, Decatur, with writing a non-sufficient check to the county clerk's office. Buhl said the $6.50 check was to have paid for a marriage license issued to Slavings and his 17-year-old fiancée, also of rural Decatur, on Aug. 8. The prosecutor said the check incident does not invalidate the marriage.

Bears Stop Dowagiac With Second Shutout

By JOHN VANDEN HEDE
Staff Sports Writer

St. Joseph's upset of then seventh-ranked Muskegon Catholic last week was a big hit so the Bears played a re-run Friday night at Dickinson Stadium.

St. Joe was outgained for the second week in a row with the offense again failing to put together a long scoring march, yet the Bears came up with another impressive victory behind a second consecutive shutout by the Bear defense.

Coach Ike Muhlenkamp's unbeaten squad won its third straight before a big homecoming crowd by turning two lost Dowagiac fumbles and a pass interception into a 20-0 triumph over the Chiefs in the Big Six opener for both squads.

"I think we were down a little after the big win at Muskegon, yet we had it when it counted," declared Muhlenkamp. "We played kind of a low key game but took advantage of opportunities when they were present."

143 yards to 129 yards, was deep in its own territory as the result of a fumbled punt until the last play of the first quarter.

Dowagiac's Jerry Jones then fumbled away a Mike Ryan punt, which Frank Olson recovered at the Chief 30.

The Bears scored from there in seven plays, with fullback Doug Lincoln going up the middle for the final two yards. Lincoln also had the long gainer in the march on a nine-yard run.

St. Joe scored again late in the third period when a Steve Smallbones pass off a fake punt was intercepted by Olson and returned 68 yards to pay dirt. It was Olson's second TD interception return of the season.

Dowagiac again fumbled away a St. Joe punt in the final quarter to set up the last Bear touchdown. St. Joe took over at the Chief 15 and quarterback Randy Breunling was thrown for a 12 yard loss on the first play, but an offside penalty nullified the setback and moved the ball ahead to the 10. Brian Nisbet scored from there on his first carry of the game from the tailback slot. Mike Priebe added his second PAT kick of the night to extend his successful streak to eight in a row this season.

Meanwhile, Dowagiac found the stout St. Joe defense impossible to penetrate when the yardage really counted. The Chiefs were in Bear territory six times but never inside the 20.

"It's getting frustrating," added Chief coach Lou Famiano on the Dowagiac offense which is still scoreless in regulation play this season. "We haven't been able to hit the right tumbler. When this offense clicks...it's going to explode."

"But St. Joe closed us off on the inside tonight and cut off our

Perfect Opportunist Lakeshore Defeats Bucks

Season's First Triumph For Lancers, Topping

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

Lakeshore was the perfect opportunist Friday night.

The Lancers took advantage of two big Buchanan mistakes in the first quarter to zip to a quick 14-0 lead and then added a clinching TD on a time-consuming drive in the final period to turn back the Bucks 22-8.

The victory was the first of the season for Lakeshore and new head coach Dave Topping, who considered the gain a must win.

"We really needed this win after those two losses. This is a different team than the one that went undefeated last year. We have a lot of new kids...and they had to feel what it's like to win."

Lakeshore wasted little time testing the Buck secondary.

Following a bad snap on an attempted punt by Buchanan, the Lancers took over the ball.

for the first time in the game at the Buck 47.

Quarterback Larry Livengood

then retreated, spotted Brian Peterson all alone at the 15 and hit him with a perfect pass for the TD at the 5:25 mark. Dave Baker ran the PAT.

Lakeshore used the same Livengood to Peterson combination for a 48-yard gain on the first play of the St. Joseph game.

"We decided to use that play Thursday night," noted Topping. "It worked for us early against St. Joe. Peterson just runs straight down the field. Buchanan was just concentrating on Shafer (Charlie)."

The second Lancer TD was set up by an interception by Baker, who plucked off the pass at the Buck 45 and ran it down to the 25. Lakeshore took only six plays to score with Baker going the final six yards with 55 seconds left in the quarter.

Buchanan's only score came on 21-yard aerial from quarterback Joe Berry to Willie Brown at 9:38 of the third period. Lakeshore's fumble of the second-half kickoff at the Buck 20 led to the six-pointer.

The Lancers then salted away the Blossomland victory on a neat 69-yard drive which ate up 7:28 of the final quarter. Fullback Ed Krager dove over from the one for the TD. Krager carried the load in the march with 36 yards in 10 totes.

"That long drive really killed us," stated Buck coach Dave Shumake. "They just controlled the ball and ate up the clock. And that third-down catch by Shafer also hurt."

"But those two mistakes in the first quarter were the keys as far as I'm concerned. They scored two quick touchdowns and put us in a hole."

The Lancers did a super job of stopping the Bucks' ground game. Buchanan was held to 39 yards rushing with the the Brown brothers, Willie and John, combining for only four yards.

"We knew we had to stop the run and that's what we did," offered Topping. "We really contained the Brown brothers. Hoze (Chuck), Lorton (Kyle) and Mason (Marty) had fine games."

Livengood, who according to Topping was sharp on his passing, threw for 90 yards on four completions. Peterson grabbed two passes for 63 yards and Shafer two for 27.

Krager and Baker accounted for 105 of the Lancers' 117 yards rushing. Krager bulled 63 yards in 16 carries and Baker 42 in 16. Willie Brown caught three passes for 36 yards for the Bucks, now 1-1 in Blossomland action and 1-2 overall.

Lakeshore, 1-2 overall, now has beaten the Bucks six straight times.

Raiders' SAC Record Still Unblemished

GOBLES — Decatur came out on top in their game of fumbitis with Gobles here Friday night.

Not only did the Raiders beat the Tigers in last games 5-4, they also won the game 16-0.

The victory continues Decatur's streak of never having lost in the Southwestern Athletic conference, while Gobles ran its losing streak to 12 in a row.

The two teams battled on near even terms, with Decatur holding an 8-7 first down advantage, while Gobles had a slight edge in total offense 186-184. But it was the fumbles that made the difference, especially for Gobles.

The first set up the Raiders' first score and the final three came inside the Decatur 20-yard line.

Ron Herron, who ran for 103 yards on 16 carries, scored both Decatur touchdowns. He ran over from the 12 for the first tally.

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Quarterback Ron Rummel ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third Friday in leading Saginaw Arthur Hill to a 55-0 football victory over Midland Dow in Class A prep action.

Rummel's scoring burst were on runs of 20 and eight yards. His 13-yard scoring pitch was hauled in by Bob Jones.

Rummel finished the game with 68 yards rushing and hit on 3-of-7 passes for another 81 yards. He sat out the fourth quarter.

Late Comeback Gives Pistons

Another Victory

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — The Detroit Pistons staged a 20-8 spurge in the final seven minutes Friday night to beat the Kansas City-Omaha Kings, 106-100, in a National Basketball Association preseason game.

The Pistons trailed, 82-80, when Dave Bing and Bob Lanier combined to spark the comeback to give Detroit its sixth victory against no defeats and hand the Kings their third defeat without a victory.

Nate Archibald, with 26 points, sparked the Kings in a rally during the late stages of the third period and the early part of the fourth before the Pistons made their payoff move.

Bing had 20 points and Lanier had 14 for Detroit.

penalties and turnovers proved as fatal as an overdose of sleeping pills for coach Irv Siger's Tigers who were carted off as 42-22 victims of Kalamazoo Hackett after a shocking slaughter at CAA Field.

Even the final margin of victory does not fully convey a true picture of the action, which saw the Irish pile up a 35-0 lead for a delirious crowd at their home

The Tigers were whistled down 14 times for an outlandish total of 131 yards in penalties, lost the ball four times on fumbles and had one pass intercepted and run back for a touchdown.

Seven of the penalties gave Hackett first downs while five other infractions on offense helped the Irish hold the Tigers scoreless until the final 10 minutes of play when Benton Harbor finally broke loose on two TD passes from Dave Popke to Billy Chandler and a dazzling 70-yard punt return by little Dale Sams.

Until that late flurry, it was strictly a disaster for Benton Harbor.

Fumbles launched Hackett's first two touchdowns drives, which were capped by runs of 10 yards by halfback Tom Drake and a one yard by quarterback Dave Schanz.

Smith then broke the Tigers' back by turning bad field position into an instant touchdown, racing 85 yards to paydirt on the first play after Bruce Bolin's punt had put the Irish into an apparent hole.

The Irish recovered another fumble at the Benton Harbor 48 shortly before halftime and struck quickly on a 47-yard pass from Schanz to Pete Hudson and a one-yard plunge by Smith.

Linebacker Kevin Walton, who successfully booted the conversions after each Hackett TD, made it 35-0 in the third quarter when he intercepted Keith Seahorn's pass at the BHJ 26 and ran in for the score.

Popke entered the game at quarterback for the first time with 9:53 remaining in the game and produced a touchdown 15 seconds later on a 13-yard pass to Chandler.

Smith offset that by running 16 yards around left end after two Benton Harbor penalties on the same play — a personal foul and delay of game — had given the Irish a first down at the Tiger 17.

Vaught is Back With Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — John Vaught has returned as head football coach at Mississippi after the abrupt dismissal of Billy Kinard.

Vaught, who led Ole Miss to football prominence for 24 years is taking over a football team which has lost two of its first three games this season.

University Chancellor Porter Fortune said Vaught would also become athletic director.

Benton Harbor, which repeatedly was victimized by Hackett's stunting defenses and blitzing linebackers, struck back again through the air on a 45-yard pass from Popke to Chandler and Lenny Thompson ran for the conversion.

The final excitement was provided by Sams, who took Drake's punt at his own 30, cut to the right sideline and battled his way past several would-be tacklers before springing loose for the touchdown.

Hackett rolled up 240 yards rushing with Drake getting 163 in 13 carries as Smith's chief assistant. Buster Lee led Benton Harbor with 64 yards in nine carries.

The victory was the third of the year for undefeated Hackett, ranked No. 10 in Class C. Benton Harbor remains winless with an 0-3 record to take into another non-league game next week against Holland at Filstrup Field.

Woman Forced To Withdraw Savings

Two armed robberies, one at a gasoline service station in Sodus township, and the other of a woman, who allegedly was forced to withdraw $1,000 from a Benton Harbor bank, were investigated Friday by twin cities area police.

The woman, Josephine Sherman, 63, of Townline road, told Benton Harbor Lt. Harry Lenardson shortly after noon Friday that she was forced to withdraw the money by a man she thought had a gun.

Mrs. Sherman said she had withdrawn $10 from the Farmers and Merchants National bank, Main street office, and left the bank, when a man demanded to see her savings passbook. Police were told the man pushed an object, thought to be the gun, into her back and forced to withdraw the balance, reported to be $1,000. Mrs. Sherman told Lenardson the man went into the bank with her and stood near during the transaction.

After the transaction, the man was joined by another outside the bank and both forced the victim into her car, after taking the money. She was reportedly ordered to drive away and not look back.

Mrs. Sherman went to the police station, where the matter was turned over to the detective bureau. At the station, Mrs. Sherman said she first stopped an unidentified officer on Colfax to report the robbery, but was merely told to watch out, because the city is full of "con men," according to Lenardson's report.

In the service station incident, Bertha Sandalic, 48, of Sandalic's store and station at Pipestone and Nickerson, told Berrien sheriff's officers a man drove up and asked for $4 worth of gas. Instead of paying, he reportedly pointed a handgun at Mrs. Sandalic and drove off. Mrs. Sandalic said when she saw the gun she jumped behind the car. No shots were reported fired.

The incident was reported at 1:50 p.m.

FOR REP. PETER RODINO (D-N.J.), sponsor of a bill to keep Attorneys General from taking part in presidential-election campaigns

Charges of illegal activities aside, why all the fuss over former Attorney General John N. Mitchell's work as a Nixon campaign adviser? Didn't Bobby Kennedy do the same thing for his brother?—M. O'Dell, Teaneck, N.J.

● Yes, and when the late President John F. Kennedy appointed Bobby Kennedy as Attorney General, some members of the bar expressed doubts about the wisdom of that appointment. In recent years, there has been a growing tendency for our nation's top law-enforcement officers to view themselves as the Attorney General of the President and of the President's political party. This tendency is a dangerous one, no matter who is President.

FOR JACQUES COUSTEAU, underwater explorer

I have often wondered why you didn't include a search for the fabled Loch Ness monster among your many searches. Do you have any plans in this direction?—Dorothy Sullivan, Brighton, Mass.

● No, because I don't believe there is such a thing as the Loch Ness monster.

FOR BARBARA EDEN

I read that you lost your baby under tragic circumstances two years ago. Is that true?—S. K., Council Bluffs, Iowa

● Yes—and it helped me learn how very dear life is. It was a hard experience: My baby died in the seventh month, but I had to carry it a full month more before the doctors would terminate pregnancy. The death came about because the umbilical cord collapsed. I hadn't even known such a thing was possible. Since then I've heard of other cases.

FOR HOPE LANGE

I have always admired you for your ladylike quality. How have you managed in a business that is known to be tough?—B. E., Prescott, Ariz.

● I think everyone has his own concept of what being ladylike means. If you are referring to a quiet, timid sort of attitude, then you are very wrong—I probably have the foulest mouth around! I find using four-letter words a marvelous relief for pent-up tensions and anger. However, I would never use such language around anyone I didn't know.

FOR SEN. CHARLES H. PERCY (R-Ill.)

I see you're sponsoring bills to "improve" our prisons. Isn't it time to get tough instead?—F. S., Marion, Ind.

● If we're serious about trying to alleviate the crime problem, then it's time we take a long look at the system, which is producing failures seven times out of ten. I think we should reshape our approach to criminal justice. Both the "soft on crime" and "hard line" approaches are just traps. None of these approaches has worked or will work.

FOR REDD FOX, TV star

I have heard you mention the name "Elizabeth" several times on your "Sanford and Son" show. Who is Elizabeth?—Martin Piotrowski, Mt. Morris, Mich.

● The Elizabeth that I refer to is supposed to be Fred Sanford's late wife. I took the name from an old friend, now deceased. She was Elizabeth Cobb, who was married to saxophone player Arnett Cobb, a great friend of mine.

FOR ANN CORIO of "This Was Burlesque"

How do you explain the fact that so many women want to see burlesque shows?—Mrs. J. J., Niagara Falls, N.Y.

● Women make up 70 percent of my audience, and the reason is pretty basic. These women never went to burlesque shows before. They had heard about them from their husbands, but they were not allowed to go. When I brought burlesque to theaters in the round and made the show respectable, they began to come. Now they are beating the men to the front seats.

FOR JEANE DIXON

What do you think will be the outcome of the gas shortage?—Cheryl Chesebrough, Merced, Calif.

● I feel that the gas shortage is going to continue to be a problem. At the moment it is a manufactured shortage, but we will have an energy crisis for real later on.

FOR CURT GOWDY, sportscaster

I have heard that Bobby Orr of the Boston Bruins, who is in the six-figure salary bracket, regrets he never graduated from high school. True?—John Davidson, Green Bay, Wis.

● Yes, and he's going to school right now in order to get a diploma.

FOR R. BUCKMINSTER FULLER, architect, inventor and author

Where did you come by the words "livingry" and "killingry"?—L. L. S., Chicago, Ill.

● There is a word, "weaponry," covering lethal weapons of humanity. I found no word covering the inventions in support of human living, so I invented the word livingry. I also invented the word killingry as the negative of livingry, feeling that the word killingry is a little more dramatic than weaponry—it makes the idea of arms manufacture a little less attractive.

U.S. Medical Care: What's Wrong?

In the third quarter of the twentieth century, medical science in America has reached a peak of quality never before attained by any country. Characteristically, too, we spend far more on health than any nation, roughly $83 billion in 1972, or 7.6 percent of the Gross National Product. With that, plus a standard of living unequalled in history, we should be the healthiest nation on earth. Yet judged by nearly a dozen indexes, the U.S. ranks below many nations that spend less than five percent of their GNP on keeping well.

What's wrong with America's health-care delivery system? A lot of people are asking that question. Fortunately some have not only diagnosed the trouble but also prescribed a promising form of treatment.

The ideal goal of a medical-care delivery system has been described by Dr. William G. Anlyan of Duke University as "medical care within a maximum of one-hour availability for every American." The record of the present non-system is far below this ideal, however, and since the Depression, commission after commission, both private and governmental, has sought ways to improve it. Almost all came up with the same answer: The product is superb, but the delivery vehicle is a one-horse shay that has changed but little—and not all of that for the better—since Colonial days.

The answer to the basic problem of medical-care delivery was blueprinted 35 years ago by this author in a novel called "That None Should Die," and it was blueprinted again in mid-April of this year by the prestigious Committee for Economic Development in a report titled "Building a National Health Care System."

Briefly stated, here are the problems:

- The U.S. is saddled with too many hospital beds that aren't needed, but has too few doctors to serve the beds that are necessary.

- Too many scalpel-happy surgeons are charging high fees for operations that aren't necessary.

- Too many doctors have located themselves in cities where they aren't needed but where the financial rewards are very good indeed, and too few live in other places where the pay is low but the opportunity to save lives and alleviate human misery is unlimited.

- Too many days of unnecessary hospitalization have increased health-insurance rates but done little to increase the availability and the quality of vital emergency care—the kind of care that gives serious-accident patients from the nation's highways less chance of sur-

Dr. and Mrs. Frank G. Slaughter in the garden of their home in Jacksonville, Fla.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

With 52 published books, all but five of them novels, and sales of over 50 million copies in 20 countries, Dr. Frank G. Slaughter of Jacksonville, Fla., is one of the most prolific authors of our time and probably the most widely known writing doctor in the world. An honor graduate of Duke with an M.D. from Johns Hopkins at 22, he holds the coveted Diploma of the American Board of Surgery, is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and the AMA, and was surgical chief for one of the Army's largest hospitals at Camp Kilmer, N.J., during World War II. In his first novel, "That None Should Die"—a world best seller begun in 1938 and published in 1941 by Doubleday—he envisioned universal medical care provided by private group clinics through health insurance for three population groups, as follows:

(A) Low Income Group—Medical care taken care of by local and state governments by paying the clinics at average cost rates for each patient treated . . . (B) Medium Income Group—eligible for a system of health insurance collected from their incomes (as in a tax) and turned over to an insurance commission in each state . . . (C) High Income Group—will receive whatever accommodations they wish to pay for at the clinics. The patient may arrange insurance himself. Dr. Slaughter's newest novel, "Convention M.D.," will be published by Pocket Books in October.

vival than were given to a soldier wounded in Vietnam.

Traditionally, medicine in the U.S. has always been, and still is to a large degree, a "cottage industry." "Solo practice," "free-choice-of-physician" and "fee-for-service," the cornerstones of this long-since-antiquated structure, have become millstones, threatening to drown the nation's third largest industry in a flood of exorbitant cost, inefficiency, over-duplication of services and wasteful use of both manpower and equipment.

Strong words? Yes. But no stronger than the medicine needed to cure a sick medical-care delivery system.

Doctors have their share of blame but much of the waste and inefficiency in the national medical-care structure can be laid at the door of American hospitals. By the 1960's there were already enough hospital beds to care for every U.S. citizen who needed hospitalization. The generosity of the federal government through the Hill-Burton Act and the desire of congressmen to see that each one's district got a lion's share, however, caused America to be dotted with hospitals—enough hospitals to hold five people per 1,000 population by 1970. Actual occupancy is 3.3 persons per 1,000. Even worse from the standpoint of medical-care efficiency, hospitals today tend to compete with ly acclaimed. In the Kaiser Foundation prepayment group clinics, the largest of the type in this country, roughly half as many operations are performed as in the average community hospital in the same area. And when the United Mine Workers instituted a prepayment health-insurance system with "fee-for-service," the union was flooded with bills for elective operations—until a requirement was added that every pre-operative diagnosis must be confirmed each other, often ruinously, by putting in equipment that is rarely used and then not always properly.

The Inter-Society Commission on Heart Disease Resources found in a recent study that for professional staffs to maintain their skills, a hospital should be used for no fewer than four to six open-heart operations a week. Yet hospital after hospital over the country has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on equipment for open-heart surgery, deep X-ray and cobalt-therapy machines, scanning units for nuclear medicine, and other sophisticated instruments. The truth is that one center could handle all the traffic for that area. In fact, if the average businessman ran his business as the community hospital is run, he'd go bankrupt.

Still another area of unnecessary expense and, deplorably, sometimes unnecessary death, is the operating room, the heart of any hospital. A long list of operations is posted every day but nobody asks if a particular operation is necessary, probably because between one-fourth and one-half of them are not. Only after a patient has died does the Death Committee, which all hospitals should have, try to fix the blame.

Do you doubt me? Then listen to this.

English cities average roughly half the number of surgeons that are found in American cities of the same size, yet the quality of English medicine is wide-by another physician. After that here's what happened: Hemorrhoidectomies dropped 35 percent, appendectomies 60 percent, and hysterectomies 75 percent. At the average community hospital in the average American town, the only license a doctor needs to operate is a license to practice medicine.

Besides sending patients to hospitals more often than they should, many doctors also allow them to be kept there longer than is necessary, increasing substantially the already exorbitant cost of medical care. On a typical day in 1970, 3.3 persons per 1,000, roughly 600,000 persons all told, were hospitalized, at an average cost in 1970 (higher now) of $81.01 for the day. But if each of those patients had been discharged one day earlier—as is the case in Kaiser Foundation hospitals—the saving in medical-care cost would have been over $48 million.

Does America need to spend more money on health care, as several bills before Congress propose? The evidence says not.

The annual bill of $88 billion for medical care of all kinds adds up to about $400 per person, $1,200 for a family of three. Yet the Johns Hopkins Institutions are providing care of the highest quality to the residents of Columbia, Md. This is done through a prepaid university group clinic—at a cost of $65.55 per month for a family of three or $786.60 a year. This figure is only about two-thirds of the present per capita national expense for health care and disease prevention. The truth is that Americans are already spending too much for medical care and getting too little for their money. Moreover, the man in the street is beginning to realize this bitter truth.

National polls taken in 1971 and 1972 showed that three out of every four people were dissatisfied with the present system, although out of a total 1970 census of roughly 205 million, 181.5 million are covered by some form of medical insurance. Polls and most analytical studies also show that the health-insurance-buying public prefers group medical practice to solo practice. So it isn't surprising that groups are increasing rapidly, from 400 in 1946 to 6,300 in June, 1973, a clear trend that will no doubt accelerate.

Dr. Slaughter: "Groups are increasing rapidly, from 400 in 1946 to 6,300 in June, 1973, a clear trend that will no doubt accelerate."

Most people polled also said they wanted a doctor of their own at the clinic that took care of them. The number of doctors who are listed as general practitioners declined from 66.10 percent in 1940 to 16.3 percent in 1970. But in the ideal clinic, each subscriber's family is assigned to a family-practice physician designated as a "Primary Health Care Agent." And since about 75 percent of the subscriber complaints can be handled on an ambulatory basis by this specially trained physician, the medical-care system could thus be streamlined remarkably. Then the 25 percent who have more serious complaints can be directed to the specialist—usually in the same building—best able to treat them.

The clinic family-practice physician can fill an even greater need, too, by virtue of his training in the science of "predictive medicine." A color photograph of the eye, magnified 200 times, not only reveals arteriosclerosis and impending glaucoma but can identify a tendency toward diabetes as much as ten years before a coronary attack develops, and the new science can also discover many other possible causes of later disability.

Yes, the medical-care delivery system is sick with a chronic illness of long standing, but the diagnosis is clear now. And since they are the very heart of the system, it behooves the doctors of America to present a new application of Luke 4:25, "Physician, heal thyself."

Can We Predict What Fate Has in Store?

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. You can predict in advance your chances of talking somebody into something.
2. A third person can predict a dating couple's chances for marital success.
3. By asking someone a seemingly innocent question, you can gain a penetrating insight into his personality that will enable you to predict how he will react under a variety of circumstances.
4. Animals have a sense that enables them to predict catastrophes, such as earthquakes, explosions, holocausts and the like.
5. You can predict whether a person is likely to live to a ripe old age.

ANSWERS

1. True. Studies show that a person's susceptibility to persuasion depends on whether he is what psychologists term a "right-eye mover" or a "left-eye mover." Investigators have demonstrated that when you ask a person a question that requires reflection, his eyes will instantly move either to the right or the left. Repeated tests have shown that each indicates markedly different character traits and attitudes—with left-eye movers tending to be appreciably more susceptible to persuasion, evidencing a greater receptivity to new ideas and concepts.

2. True. A study of students at a leading university found that outsiders were able to predict dating couples' chances of achieving a successful marriage with a high degree of accuracy. The formula used by the student-judges: an objective evaluation of "the degree to which the dating partners are attitudinally similar to each other." It's observed that more often than not the couples themselves lack the objectivity necessary for accurate judgments on this score. Moral: If you're in doubt as to whether you're likely to hit it off with a prospective mate, give serious consideration to the judgments of friends and acquaintances.

True or False: A third person can predict a dating couple's chances for marital success.
(See number 2)

3. True. The seemingly innocent question—which carries no hint that it is "loaded"—is: Do you like to take a chance? Psychological studies have shown that people who like taking chances—who fancy taking high risks for high stakes—tend to have dominant, aggressive personalities, are inclined to be stubborn and argumentative in a showdown situation, with a strong determination to get their own way if at all possible. On the other hand, it was found that persons who dislike taking risks of any kind tend to have a negative outlook on life and are inclined to doubt their own abilities. People with the best adjusted personalities, the studies showed, are those whose attitude toward taking a chance ranges midway between the two poles, who aren't inclined to go overboard in either direction.

4. True—according to the findings of a study conducted at the Psychological Institute of Freiburg University (Germany), which focused on the unexplainable behavior of animals before catastrophes. The Institute investigated 500 reports of unusual animal behavior prior to such catastrophes as explosions, bombing raids, etc. The data were then computer-evaluated and analyzed by psychologists. The investigation established that animals very definitely possess a capacity to predict catastrophes.

5. True. If he's an optimist and maintains a positive view of life—and continues to fill a useful and satisfying role in society—the odds are better than even that he will live to a ripe old age. These considerations have been shown to be key factors in longevity in a study at the Duke University Center for the Study of Aging and Human Development.

Squeeze Parkay Margarine. Squeeze it for a lot of reasons.

Squeeze it for speed and convenience in the kitchen. It's great for cooking. For sautéing, basting, measuring.

Squeeze it because it's high in polyunsaturates. If you're on a low cholesterol diet, Squeeze Parkay really makes sense.

Squeeze it at the table. It tastes great. The texture's not oily, it's creamy and all ready to go on hot foods.

Or, just maybe, squeeze it because you like to squeeze it.

Sports Mini-Profile

The Jets' DON MAYNARD: He Catches What Namath Throws

Don Maynard, wide receiver for the New York Jets, is the most versatile man in professional football. He is an expert automotive engineer, a mathematician, an alfalfa farmer, a licensed plumber, and has taught history, government and industrial arts on the high school level. He is also football's No. 1 all-time receiver, having caught more passes for more yardage than any other player in history. Maynard, 36, is a sharp contrast to the man who throws him his passes, "Broadway Joe" Namath. Maynard is a Texan who disdains New York's bright lights, doesn't drink, and is a devoted family man with a wife and two children. Unlike the free-spending Namath, Maynard is known to his teammates as "Parsimonious Don." An easygoing type who never gets into fights and speaks well of all the players who go up against him, Maynard doesn't mind being the butt of teammate jokes. . . .

The son of the manager of a cotton-gin firm, he was a running back and track star at Texas Western College in El Paso. He was first drafted by the New York Giants, then switched to the New York Titans, the team that was later renamed the "Jets." Because of his speed, agility and big hands, he was switched to a receiver's position and caught 72 passes his first season in that spot. Even though his speed has been slowed somewhat by the passing years, his deceptive maneuvers and changes of pace still enable him to fool the defensive backs who are put on him. Although he is on the skinny side (he only weighs 173 pounds), he has managed to escape serious injuries by skillfully avoiding collisions.—By Barry Abramson

The Doctor Lets You In

What's the Story on the "Morning-After Pill"?

Recently, the so-called "morning-after pill" was approved by the Federal Drug Administration for use by women as an emergency contraceptive when prescribed by a physician. It is not intended as a replacement or alternative to other means of contraception. It is to be used only in real emergency. The pill consists of a chemical called diethylstilbestrol, or DES. Not a hormone, DES works by preventing the fertilized egg from implanting itself in the uterus. If the first pill is taken within 72 hours, DES is remarkably effective. The tablets are 50 mg. each, and they are meant to be used in a daily series, for five consecutive days. The one side effect is nausea, which lasts a day or two. Why must the "morning-after pill" never be used on a regular basis? The reason is that it has been found that a few daughters of mothers who used DES for other purposes during pregnancy developed a cancer of the vagina. The cancer link with DES has never been proved. And the incidence is extremely small. Nevertheless, women should play it safe.

The Diet Watch

How Many Calories In a Pound of Fat?

How many calories can you allow yourself a day if you want to lose a pound a week? How many if you want simply to maintain your present weight? The AMA Council on Foods and Nutrition points out that you need 15 calories per pound of your body weight to maintain your desirable weight. So if, for instance, you weigh 140 pounds, multiply by 15 and you get 2,100 calories, and that's what you should stick to. But what if you want to lose weight? Each pound of excess fat contains 3,500 calories. So to lose a pound a week, you'll have to consume 500 fewer calories each day (seven days times 500 equals 3,500). In the case above, the dieter must subtract 500 from his 2,100 calories, leaving him 1,600 as his maximum daily calories until he gets down to where he wants. —By Harriet La Barre

People and You

Do You Have Mind-Reading Talent?

As the phone rang, have you ever known who it was before you answered? Or have you ever felt as if someone were staring at you—then found you were right? Both experiences could be mental telepathy, or ESP. A certain kind of person seems to succeed especially well with telepathy, says Robert Nelson, whose Central Premonitions Register is a respected scientific research project. By analyzing his data, Mr. Nelson has found that people who succeed with complicated telepathy, such as seeing the future in a dream or receiving a telepathic message from someone miles away, seem to have one particular kind of personality: They are intensely alive and feeling. Rather than walking around in a shell, they are very open to expressing emotion. In addition, they usually have a generous portion of the ability to sense suffering and to identify with tragedy.

Broadway's STEPHEN SONDHEIM:

The "Sweet Smell of Success"—And How To Keep It

"Young people today are too impatient. They want instant success." Stephen Sondheim, one of Broadway's most successful composers and lyricists, elaborates: "Too many rock songs, to take one example, are by people who merely have listened to the works of other rock composers; they are only imitating, rather than developing original talent. The more tools a composer or anyone else has, the better off he is. . . . I recommend that whatever someone wants to do, he first get maximum training and solid preparation. Otherwise you repeat yourself. And when you repeat yourself, the world soon passes you by." Mr. Sondheim recently turned to mystery writing and is coauthor of the film, "The Last of Sheila." —Interview by William Wolf

Jobmanship

How to Cope with a Co-Worker You Don't Like

There are times when you can't escape: You and a co-worker you dislike have to work together on some task. How do you get the job done without a continuing personality hassle? Dr. John L. Butler, an industrial psychologist in Chicago, suggests: 1. Concentrate on your work goals. By keeping your mind on the work, you'll be less likely to bog down in personality differences. 2. Spend time at the beginning of the work with both your supervisor and your co-worker. Plan the tasks and responsibility so that as much as possible each of you has some independence in day-to-day work routine with as little overlap as possible. 3. Try putting yourself in your co-worker's shoes and imagine how you and the job look to him! It takes courage to do this, says Dr. Butler, "but many times people find that trying to understand their co-worker's feelings effects a change for the better." —By S. R. Redford

Super Solutions For Bedrooms and Family Rooms

In this section, Women's Editor Rosalyn Abrevaya looks at two very important parts of the house. She says, "Although we spend a third of our lives in bedrooms, they always seem to be the rooms we decorate last. And as for family rooms, too often they're still a junk depot for furnishings that have lost favor in other rooms." How to change all that, and not have it cost a fortune? Study these room settings.

Idea for a small boudoir—vertical storage, slide-out bed.

Solution: Bedroom as a Retreat

This kind of room, which invites you to shut out the world, is a well-functioning entity. The bed, outfitted with a Simmons mattress, is tucked under a wall-hung upholstered headboard. The floor-to-ceiling units house stereo speakers or provide storage. Decorative catalysts: the bold meld of flower-printed fabric by Bloomcraft and Wunda Weave nylon carpeting, both Scotchgarded. Stereo by Magnavox. At the window: hairpin-lace Roman shades you can make yourself. Send a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope with 25 cents in coin to: Coats and Clark, Inc., Box 495, Dept. FW 9-73, Fair Lawn, N.J. 07410.

Solution: Built-In Seating Makes Room for People

Here's a family room where the fun never stops. The carpeted step-up seating eliminates furniture, with the exception of two étagères for stereo equipment and bric-a-brac. The focal point is the printed carpet by Jorge's. Used wall-to-wall or as an area rug, it's a board for 16 games, from checkers to backgammon. (A game-components kit, with instructions and pieces, is available where the carpet is purchased.) The rug, of soil-hiding Antron nylon with high-density latex foam-rubber backing, also sets the scene for TV and musical background magic by Magnavox.

Who needs furniture in this bright, come-alive room, a haven for snacking, lounging and games galore?

Now—An Elegant Place To Take Off Your Shoes!

Once called the rec or rumpus room, to which you relegated the kids, and perhaps locked the door in the process, the family room has since come of age. Technology is the reason. Easy-care materials and multipurpose furniture have made possible elegant environments that adults can revel in. Ideally, a family room should be a spot not only for music-listening, TV-watching or hobby work, but be a successful entertaining room. Its design should be cheerful, versatile in function, easy to keep orderly and comfortable. It also can give family members a chance to express their personalities—by displaying artwork, other hobby creations or personal sports pictures and trophies.

Design a convertible family room that's all fun and function—with easy-to-move-around furnishings for more floor space.

Let your teenager plan a bedroom for more than just sleeping.

Solution: A Living/Sleeping/Dining Environment

A teenager who wants room to entertain friends in his own quarters might choose to have his bed built aloft. This practical project is simply a sophisticated version of the bunk bed. (Restless sleepers should not overlook adding a removable side railing or panel.) The room's "early attic" charm blends a butcher block table, rattan furniture and a well-traveled trunk. Nostalgic barn-siding paneling by Evans shows off a series of old advertisements and a collection of license plates. The richly colored carpeting is of Enkaloft filament nylon from Jorges.

Solution: Room for All Ages

For those who are not inclined to have a separate family room, why not revamp the living room into a multipurpose area to serve all generations equally? As a playroom, games pull out of storage built into textured Masonite wall paneling. Durable vinyl asbestos tile flooring, "American Sampler" by GAF Corporation, resists paints, crayons, even scuff marks. When adults get priority, Monopoly makes way for TV or chess. Light, easy-to-move furniture regroups for charades, sweeps away for dancing. Remodeling of this 12' x 16' room (for four paneled walls, new floor and matching fabric) was under $200. Room designed by Edmund Motyka.

Solution: Privacy with a Colorful Divider

Even sisters who are close want a part of the bedroom they can call their own. A room divider of Plexiglas and painted wood might be just the answer, with shelving below to stash books and toys. Bright-red headboards, cut from acrylic sheet with a simple hand scribing tool, double as memo boards (crayon doodles wipe clean with a tissue). And storage abounds in open-ended cubes and wicker trunks.

A General Electric Potscrubber dishwasher is guaranteed to do this. Or we'll take it back.

The pot on the left has the remains of the morning's oatmeal.

The unretouched picture on the right is the same pot after it has been scrubbed with the brushless water action of one of our Potscrubber dishwashers with Power Scrub Cycle. Nothing else was done to this pot. No pre-scraping. No rinsing. We washed it along with a full load of 88 other dirty dishes, glasses and silverware.

You'll get the same results as we have if you'll follow our simple loading diagrams for different sizes and types of loads.

Instructions are provided with every Potscrubber we sell.

That's why we can give this guarantee:

"Buy any one of our Potscrubber* dishwashers with a Power Scrub Cycle from a participating GE dealer before December 31, 1973.

If you're not fully satisfied with its performance (and you'll be the judge) notify the dealer within 30 days of your purchase. He'll take back the dishwasher and refund your money. No questions asked."

In addition to pots and pans, you can also safely wash fine china and crystal.

We make a line of Potscrubber models to fit into a lot of different kitchens. Three built-ins. Three front-load convertibles, portable now, can be built in later.

These are some of the reasons why more people use GE dishwashers than any others.

We also have a quality feature just as dependable as our Potscrubber.

Wake Up to These Bedrooms!

Rules are meant to be broken—as in placing a bed in the center of the room.

Solution: A New Place to Put the Bed

The bedroom is a room apart—private, designed for the relaxing, quiet pleasures of reading or listening to music. Bedrooms can be among the most attractive rooms in the house, but too often they are left to the last in decorating because of the idea that guests are not likely to see them. But we spend one-third of our lives in our bedrooms, and they should offer the most in physical comfort and visual charm, according to the individual tastes of their occupants.

If the room is shared by husband and wife, choose a color scheme both can live with. Arrange the furniture to make sleep restful: If you can't stand a trace of light, try not to have the bed face a window. Plan to include a comfortable chair, a good reading light, bedside tables of adequate size—within easy reach.

Colors in the bedroom can be lighter, more delicate, since traffic is minimal. The decor may be highly personal, even a bit fanciful. A special touch of drama is added to the master bedroom when the bed is king-size (besides the enormously added comfort) or a four-poster with modern or traditional leanings.

Don't overlook the importance of good-quality bedding. It's like trying on shoes. The only way to judge is to lie down and stretch out on the mattress—right in the store.

If you're thinking of revamping your bedroom and tossing out some pieces, or starting from scratch, you have other options besides buying a matching "set." There are many dresser and nightstand substitutes to be discovered in campaign chests and armoires, étagères, semainiers (seven-drawer chests) and other case goods, such as wicker or a painted piece, that provide ample storage space and more character.

In determining how to outfit the children's room, your surest bet (if they're at least age six) is to listen

Good Buys for Your Home

Settle back. This is an armchair guide to some of the best buys you will find in home furnishings this season. What is a "best buy"? We believe it's money well spent for what you get in return, not calculated on price alone. Whether you're looking for occasional furniture, an accessory, or a major piece, FAMILY WEEKLY's experts have culled the market for you, presenting the best in each category.

Storage Solved with Style

Knights of old had their storage problems, too. The armoire was originally designed as a cabinet to house their armor. This trimmer style, re-scaled for modern-day living, is fitted with two large shelves (one of which has a removable center divider to accommodate a TV set or stereo), three shirt compartments and two tray drawers. It's ideal as a bedroom unit or for linens in the hall. It measures 40"x20"x70", and is available in a sable tone or antique white with umber and salmon striping. Basic-Witz. Approximately $288.

It Leads a Double Life

This versatile chair-bed is a boon for the unexpected overnight guest or when the children want to have their friends sleep over. Folded up, the contemporary chair—with its foam inner core—provides ample seating and is lightweight enough to move about for conversational regrouping. Folded down, the pillow headrest adjusts automatically on the chrome frame to convert into a comfortable daybed. "Nap-Sack" by Domani. Under $130.

Sea Captain's Chest

Why not a chest as a coffee table or at the foot of the bed, like this design adaptation of an old sea captain's chest? It's pine finished on pine veneers and solids with brass-tipped corners and latch, and authentic rope pulls. Its interior is finely finished. Bassett. Under $130.

Terrarium Lamp

Why didn't someone think of this before? An enclosed planter benefits from the light of this smartly designed lamp, topped with a white pleated-vinyl shade. Each unit comes complete with a booklet of instructions, a two-quart Black Magic dry-planter mix, a bag of charcoal for drainage and decorative white gravel. Watering is at a minimum. Sunset Lamps. About $40.

Elegantly Appointed

The classic tufted Tuxedo sofa is one of today's most wanted styles because it mixes so well with other furnishings. Traditionally it is covered in leather or suede, making its cost prohibitive.

This version, 92 inches long, with luxuriously tufted seat and back and deep cushioned arms, is made in easy-care vinyl. (A love seat, 67½ inches long, is also available.) Berkshire. About $385.

Geometrics and Flowers

to their ideas. Children are less interested in how the room looks as a whole and more interested in how each part works. For example, a teenage girl will almost invariably ask for a bed that can be set against a wall, with bolsters and pillows to convert it into a sofa so she can entertain her friends. Do remember children's needs change rapidly. If you're careful and use a little sophistication in the basic color and design treatments for their rooms, you'll avoid a yearly redecorating problem.

Simple furniture dazzles against designer walls and the contrast of wicker.

Solution: Mix Bold Patterns with Quiet Textures

A conventional master bedroom charges to life with the addition of striking geometrics—not wall covering, but sheets stapled to the walls! Further catalysts: coordinated window shades, a solid-color textured rug and sleek, low bedroom furniture of vinyl veneer laminate around recycled wood particleboard. The stain- and heat-resistant furniture is by Sierra Permaneer. The sheets and bedspread are designed by Yves St. Laurent for Fieldcrest.

A room of her own—all flowers, stripes and eyelet—carved out of the attic.

Solution: Create a Room at the Top

To a teenager, a bedroom of her own is a necessity—even if just to keep the tranquillity for the rest of the family. This airy attic is a colorful, yet practical, niche, whose design aim is to work with the architecture of the room, not to camouflage it. Birge fabric-backed vinyl wall covering is easily installed up one wall and over the ceiling to balance the adjacent stripe. This pattern is strippable to accommodate teenagers' changing whims, scrubbable to compensate for grimy fingers. Do-it-yourself bull's-eye window is of sheer fabric stapled into place and fastened with a velvet bow.

Bedrooms That Can Grow

Build a room around a hobby or major interest—here sleeps a music buff.

Solution: Devise an Architectural Look

A teenager's private domain incorporates the bed into a smart arrangement of wall-hung furniture units, which integrate the stereo. The drop-front cabinet on the far left conceals the record player and tuner, with speaker cabinets placed above on opposite sides. Storage is provided by a pair of two-drawer cabinets and one four-drawer chest. What to use as a headboard? The wall serves that purpose, with the help of a bolster to match the bedspread and lambrequin frame at the windows. Toss pillows soften the rectangular lines. Wall unit by Royal System.

The classic bunk bed wears longer when it is more sophisticated in style.

Solution: Choose Furniture That "Grows" with Your Children

Room to grow in, with furnishings to grow with, make this preteen boys' bedroom ideal. The simple campaign styling of the polished lacquer desk and chests enables them to be used far into the future, while the bunk beds can convert into twins. Orange, gold and green carpet tiles keynote the color scheme and provide a handy noise cushion. Available in 12-inch squares and backed with latex foam rubber, they are self-adhesive and installed by simply "pressing into place." A good idea for a bulletin board—extra squares bordering the window. Furniture by Schoolfield. Hercu-lon fiber carpet tiles from Ozite. Bedding by Wamsutta.

Why do you smoke?

With what you've been hearing about smoking these days, you probably wonder sometimes why you smoke at all.

Yet you enjoy it.

Because smoking a cigarette can be one of those rare and pleasurable private moments.

And the chances are you don't want to give up any of that.

Which brings us to Vantage.

Vantage is the cigarette for people who don't entertain the idea of giving up cigarettes because they find cigarettes too entertaining.

Vantage is the cigarette for people who have come to realize that most cigarettes that give them the flavor they want also give them a lot of the 'tar' and the nicotine that they may not want.

Vantage is the cigarette for people who've found that most low 'tar' cigarettes don't give them anything at all.

The thing that makes Vantage special is that its filter is based on a new design concept that gives smokers the flavor of a full-flavor cigarette without anywhere near the 'tar' and nicotine.

Now we don't want to suggest that Vantage is the lowest 'tar' and nicotine cigarette you'll find.

It isn't.

But it sure is the lowest one that will give you enjoyment.

And that's why you smoke. Right?

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Filter: 11 mg. "tar", 0.8 mg. nicotine, Menthol: 11 mg. "tar", 1.0 mg. nicotine—av. per cigarette, FTC Report Feb. 73.

Barbara Rush: "I've Always Wanted to Be Independent!"

We met at her elegantly furnished Beverly Hills home. She looked as beautiful as she did when she first came to a dinner party at my house 20 years ago. Her life has never been easy; she's now married to her third husband. And she's never really made it to the top of her profession, never reached stardom. Yet she seemed better adjusted than most women in Hollywood.

Family Weekly: You have worked with some of the top names in films, and you have a reputation for being one of the most competent actresses in Hollywood—yet you've never really been a star. Do you mind?

BARBARA: No, I don't. In this business it's the breaks that count. I still don't know why some girls become stars and some don't. Besides, I like the English approach, where Laurence Olivier doesn't mind doing bit parts. He once said there is no such thing as small roles, only small actors.

FW: What do you look for in a movie script?

BARBARA: One good scene. Or at least one really good moment. I call it the magic moment—that one scene, no matter how brief, that I can do something with. Which is why I took the lead in Disney's "A Son-In-Law for Charlie McCready." It has what I was talking about. In fact, it offers more than one good moment.

FW: How many children do you have?

BARBARA: Two. My son Christopher, who is 22, from my marriage to Jeff [the late actor Jeffrey Hunter] and Claudia Lynn, who is 11, from my marriage to Warren [publicist Warren Cowan].

FW: Do they live with you?

BARBARA: My son doesn't—he goes to school and works in a restaurant, and occasionally comes to see his mother! Economically he is very independent. He doesn't want anything from me.

FW: Did he inherit this independence from you?

BARBARA: Certainly. I've always wanted to be independent! I think every woman should be.

FW: When did you first feel that way?

Barbara Rush: "I don't spend in a whole year what I used to spend on one dress..."

BARBARA: It dates back to my childhood. I don't think I suffered any more than any other girl, but I have been hungry and I have had to work. The one thing my father insisted on was that I get a good, practical education, which included shorthand and typing. My father taught me to be self-reliant. And I agree with him. That's all you really have in life—yourself.

FW: Have you had to rely on yourself through much of your life?

BARBARA: A good part of it. Like when I went to college, I worked for a lumber company, a real estate company, and a lemon-packing company in Carpinteria.

FW: Did you have to pay your own way through college?

BARBARA: Sort of. I had a scholarship to the Pasadena Playhouse that took care of my tuition and books only. For room and board I lived with a doctor's family and took care of their baby. The Playhouse gave me five dollars a week for clothing and sundries. I learned to survive on breakfast and dinner, and walked three miles each way from home to the Playhouse to save on carfare.

FW: You are married now to sculptor James Gruzalski. Have three marriages disillusioned you about marriage, or the way of life in Hollywood?

BARBARA: I don't even know what the Hollywood way of life is. I suppose it is going to parties and seeing

(Holy Ghost Shell)

THIS IS A REAL SAND
DOLLAR PRESERVED FOREVER
IN 24 KARAT GOLD

This most unusual of marine life specimens has markings that symbolize the Life of Christ. The five narrow openings represent the four nail holes and the wound in the Crucified Body of Christ. On the front side, the outline of the Easter Lily is clearly seen with the five pointed Star of Bethlehem in the center. The back reveals a Christmas Poinsetta. Legend has it that when the Sand Dollar is broken, the shell releases five little Doves of Peace. Some say these are the Angels that sang to the shepherds the first Christmas Morning.

This striking piece of jewelry is designed by nature and then "frozen in gold." And because each is cast from a real sand dollar, every detail is held intact... the way nature desired it.

Barbara Rush with her husband, sculptor James Gruzaleski, at a benefit.

Barbara Rush

FW: You once said that this was not a time to raise children. What did you mean by that?

BARBARA: The family unit is so split today, it is hard for parents to control their children. There are too many outside pressures. When I grew up, the kids always came along for dinner when the parents were invited. Today this hardly ever happens. The kids have their own activities. A lot of their values have changed. In Beverly Hills it is hard to get them away from a materialistic attitude. And, worst of all, the kids are constantly exposed to drugs.

FW: Did you have a drug problem with your children?

BARBARA: Yes, with my two stepdaughters and my son. But they got over it.

FW: How do you feel about drugs?

BARBARA: I don't approve. As a result, sometimes I've gone to certain parties in Hollywood where I've felt like an outsider. I don't like to see people all spaced out. I think it's a waste of life.

FW: Do you believe in any form of escape?

BARBARA: Not artificial escape. That's why I don't drink or smoke. I have never had a drink in my life.

FW: How do you feel about clothes?

BARBARA: I got them out of my system when I was married to Warren. We used to go to Paris every year and see all of the collections and waste a lot of money. Today I dress simply, comfortably and inexpensively. I don't spend in a whole year what I used to spend on one dress when I was married to Warren.

FW: Is there anything, aside from acting, that you still want to do?

BARBARA: I love traveling. I wanted to become a spokeswoman for Pan Am, but Pan Am decided they didn't need a spokeswoman.

FW: Why was that so appealing?

BARBARA: Because I thought I could travel for nothing, or for a discount.

FW: If you could live your life over again, would you still become an actress?

BARBARA: If I lived my life over, I would become an airline stewardess for a couple of years so I could travel all over the world. But at least in that respect I've been lucky in my career because I've had a chance to travel quite a bit!

Death Row

"We have halted capital punishment for even the worst kind of criminal; yet, this year, we will execute 17,000,000 innocent animals whose only crime was being born unwanted."

--Belton P. Mouras

This is the final day. If these pets aren't adopted by four o'clock they will be put-to-sleep . . . forever.

WHY? They're surplus. Excess. They must die by four o'clock because there are more pets than there are homes. Five out of every six puppies and kittens born die in one tragic way or other. MILLIONS are destroyed in pounds; more millions are abandoned to starvation, disease and highway slaughter. And on top of the terrible toll paid in animal life, it costs you, the American taxpayer, $500,000,000 annually just to keep from being overrun by stray cats and dogs.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER? Planned pethood. Animal birth control. Until veterinary science discovers a pet "pill," the only sure way to keep pets from breeding unwanted litters is a spaying operation which some people can't afford. There's a desperate need now for low-cost spaying clinics—and accelerated pet contraceptive research.

Something must be done. The consequences of doing nothing are horrifying: bigger-and-bigger pounds to kill more-and-more animals, and restrictive laws banning pets from cities. Who wants to contemplate the future day when pets are outlawed—when man has no other animal companion but himself?

YOU can change this grim forecast. Join us to halt surplus breeding NOW.

It's almost four o'clock.

If you use a laxative
more than once a week...

Here's real relief from constipation

If you've been taking magnesia, salts, oils or harsh chemical laxatives once a week or more and you're still not satisfied—here's a better way to end constipation worries. Take gentle, effective Serutan. It's different!

Unlike other laxatives that may cause irritation or griping, Serutan, taken daily, forms a soft gel which moistens food wastes and shapes them into a well-formed stool. Serutan produces the proper amount of bulk needed to help bring peristaltic stimulation to your sluggish colon. This is utterly different than forcing your system with harsh chemical laxatives which may dry you out. You can take gentle Serutan every day because it is a pure vegetable hydrogel and contains no harsh roughage, no chemical laxatives. Take Serutan every day to get regular—and keep regular.

Delicious Fruit Flavor

Serutan is available in delicious fruit flavor. Get Serutan fruit flavor or unflavored powder, or toasted granules. When you read Serutan backwards, it spells "natures." And nature's way is best.

GLORIA'S EASY COMPANY CHICKEN WINGS

1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon instant minced
onion
1 teaspoon paprika
1 cup (2 sticks) margarine, melted
1 box (8 ozs.) salted cheese
crackers, finely crushed
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground black pepper
3 1/2 lbs. chicken wings

1. Preheat oven to 375°F. Line two shallow 15x10 1/2 x1-inch pans with aluminum foil.
2. Stir garlic powder, instant minced onion and paprika into melted margarine.
3. Combine cheese cracker crumbs, salt and pepper in heavy paper bag.
4. Dip chicken wings first in margarine mixture, then in cheese cracker crumbs, coating completely.
5. Place chicken wings on prepared baking pans and bake for 40-45 minutes, until golden brown. Makes 6-8 servings

SIMPLE CHEESE TARTS

1 pkg. (8 ozs.) cream cheese, softened
1/4 cup sugar
2 eggs
12 vanilla wafers
1 can (21 ozs.) cherry, pineapple, blueberry or peach pie filling

What a Working Woman Can Cook— In Just 20 Minutes!

Gloria's Easy Company Chicken Wings arranged in a basket, with cherry-topped Simple Cheese Tarts.

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Line 12 medium-size cupcake cups with fluted paper baking cups.
2. In medium bowl with electric mixer blend cream cheese, sugar and eggs. Beat well.
3. Place a vanilla wafer in bottom of each paper cake cup. Fill each with about 2 tablespoons cheese filling. Bake 10-12 minutes. Filling will be firm.

4. Cool for 45 minutes on rack. Spoon pie filling on top of each tart. Refrigerate. Makes 12 tarts

FRANK AND CORN CHOWDER

In 3-qt. saucepan sauté 1/2 cup chopped onion and 1/2 cup chopped celery in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine for about 3 minutes. Stir in 1 can (10 1/2 ozs.) cream of potato soup. Gradually add 1 soup can milk, stirring until smoothly blended. Add 1 can (12 ozs.) mexicorn, 1/2 lb. sliced frankfurters and 1/4 teaspoon seasoned salt. Bring to boiling, reduce heat and simmer 5-10 minutes. Ladle into soup bowls. Makes about 5 cups

This child has a devoted mother,
good clothes,
balanced meals
—and Pin-Worms!

A tormenting itch in the rectal area, nose-picking and fidgeting are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. It can happen to anyone in any family—young or old, rich or poor. It's so common, medical authorities say that 1 out of 3 children examined, and many parents, have Pin-Worms without knowing it. And because Pin-Worms bring on itching and fidgeting, they can distract children and affect their school work!

What's more, Pin-Worms are highly contagious, so they can spread from person to person, until the whole family is infected.

What can you do about it? Fortunately there is an easy-to-take medication that gets rid of Pin-Worms. It's called Jayne's® P-W® tablets. Ask your pharmacist. He'll tell you that Jayne's P-W tablets are specially formulated with an effective medical ingredient that gets Pin-Worms out of your system. Ask for Jayne's P-W tablets at your drug store.

Dog Nearly Dies From Scratching Skin Raw

"Last year, a skin problem made our dog, Heidi, scratch her skin raw. I thought we'd have to put her to sleep, she suffered so. Then a neighbor told me about Sulfodene. I put Sulfodene all over Heidi. She stopped scratching and soon she was completely healed. I'm convinced Sulfodene saved Heidi's life."

Mrs. L. Schrank, Arlington Hts., Ill.

SULFODENE medication relieves the most frenzied itching fast, kills infectious bacteria, helps speed healing. Treats painful cuts and scrapes, too. Get Sulfodene, the rescue medication for your dog's skin problems. And use new Sulfodene medicated shampoo to help keep dog's skin healthy. Helps remove eczema scales. At all pet counters.

PETE STRUDWICK
Runner without feet

"I'm the only man alive who has run marathons over mountains... and does it without feet!" So says Pete Strudwick, 41, born with stumps for hands and feet as a result of German measles. In his four years of running he has conquered Mt. Kennedy in the Canadian Yukon and Mt. Williamson in California. But his toughest race was up and down Pike's Peak—27 miles of muscle-ripping trail with 15,000 feet of altitude change. One-third of the 229 entrants dropped out. Pete got to the top, but it took him 45 minutes longer than permitted. The judges ruled him ineligible to run back down. Pete argued with them for 20 minutes, and finally just took off, coming in at the finish line after 8 hours and 14 minutes of running. Pete didn't win Pike's Peak, but even in losing, he explains, "Running is an act of living for me. It's kept me from feeling sorry for myself. And this encouragement is what I call out to other runners around me. This reaching out to others has made me stronger."

Are persistently fat women different from other people? According to some studies by the Obesity and Metabolic Research Program of TOPS, a non-profit weight-control organization, they are definitely different. Though they think of themselves as outgoing and sociable, they actually feel lonely and rejected, dissatisfied and tense. Their mothers, they think, are much more productive than they are, yet they seem to reject emulation of their mothers' achievements. Long-term fat women see themselves as quite feminine, but they don't feel attractive to men because of their size. One researcher, Dr. Raymond J. McCall of Marquette University, adds that "often the girls' eating is not so much a response to appetite as a response to emotional tension. They eat to tranquilize themselves." His solution? Physical exercise. "It's just as good a tranquilizer as eating, and, for overweight people, a much healthier one."

MICK JAGGER
Like a very little kid?

The Rolling Stones, close-up: "You felt their isolation; it encircled all of them in a whirl of light and noise. It was like a soreness in the corners of their eyes that made them appear to be in need of coddling, Jagger especially. He always seemed as if just about to cry. Really break down and let loose like a very little kid, and he never really did, and you knew he never would, wouldn't like you seeing him that way, though maybe with his friends he was different, though you doubted that. The only tender moments I observed were between members of the band. Their wives and girl friends were mommies and they treated them accordingly, with distance and contempt... But they seemed to know each other much too well to put up with anything less than respect, regard, and awareness of each other's needs. They shared in an attitude that one notes in convicts or reform school boys." From "Uptight with the Stones," by Richard Elman (Scribners, $5.95).

ARMOUR'S ARMOURY

By Richard Armour

COLLECTING MY WITS

My wife is a splendid accumulator. In fact, I believe there is no one who's greater.

Some collect stamps, whereas some collect pottery,

Some collect tickets for any old lottery. Some collect photos to show they've been places.

Some collect paintings, and some collect vases.

My wife collects everything—that includes wrappings,

Old letters and string and all manner of trappings.

With all she collects, our poor home is a clutter,

And I have been known on occasion to mutter.
But wait just a moment, that's not quite correct;
She's not a collector—no, things just collect.

THROUGH A CHILD'S EYES

Kids see life differently. Send original contributions to "Child," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., N.Y., N.Y. 10022. $10 if used—none returned.

When my mother returned home from the hospital with her new baby, my six year old brother naturally had to inspect the new arrival. Looking at the babies tiny dimpled hands he exclaimed, "Look Mom! His knuckles haven't come in yet!"

Dear Mr. Quinn:

You are my favorite Actor. Can you send me Rod Steiger's picture to put on my desk?

Yours truly,
